Background

- Irpps library supports Open Access (OA) promoting digital scholarship as an alternative channel to diffuse niche products in Humanities and Social Sciences
- In 2012 Irpps launched “Cnr-Irpps e-Publishing”, a service to manage internal editorial products based on Open Journal System (OJS). The software was customized to support the research needs of its community
- Two series are published: Monographs and Working Papers (WPs)

Policies

- Contents & submission: guideline for the submission and for the management of final editing
- Peer review: internal peer review of the WP series, external peer review for Monographs
- Copyright & licensing: creative commons, version 3.0. Free access for all contents
- Access & preservation: persistent identifier and long-term preservation in Solar - CNR institutional repository

Publication workflow

Continuity .....and changes to improve quality and quantity of IRPPS publications

Further enhancements

- Upgrading to OJS 3.0 with additional functionalities implemented (Altmetrics)
- Digitization of previously published works that represent important achievements of IRPPS research results
- Development of a data repository linked to IRPPS publications to increase the replicability and reusability of research in Social Sciences
- Improvement of the practices and infrastructures to support data sharing and citations
