

Preface

This 49th volume of Nordlyd is a special issue in honor of our colleague and friend Johan Rooryck on the occasion of his 65th birthday. We know Johan as an outstanding linguist and a pillar in the Open Access community. It is only fitting that this Festschrift, which contains articles by contributors from both fields, is published in the diamond open access journal Nordlyd. The volume comprises 17 articles by 24 different authors, the wide range of topics of which mirrors Johan's exceptional versatility.

We all know that scholarly publishing is not only authoring – peer review is an important part of it. Johan himself has been an active advocate of proper recognition of peer review in research assessment. The following colleagues contributed with reviews of the articles in this volume:
